

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Dear members

I have copied an email received from our member Charan Kamal Singh Sekhon. This seems like a fantastic career opportunity for a young person. Many thanks to Charan for his continued support to BABA and Bedford community.

Subject: Foundation Degree Advertising

Hi Charan

As you know we have a Foundation degree programme as part of our entry level schemes and we are looking for your help in advertising for the next cohort. The advert is currently live through the EA website, WCN and we have advertised via different digital media and through education establishments, which have previously provided a good cadre of applicants, but to date we received fewer applications for round 2 in previous years, therefore a new extended deadline has been imposed, July 31 2016.

In summary

“This is a 2-year course of work-based learning with full-time university study. We’ll pay you up to £14,000 during your work placement (maximum of £2,000 during your first year). This is free from tax and National Insurance contributions. We’ll also pay tuition fees and textbooks in both years. In the second year we’ll pay for travel and accommodation during study weeks too.

Individuals will spend their first year in full-time study at the University of West of England (UWE) and the second at the Environment Agency or local authority office at various locations around England. UWE is responsible for the entire application process”.
